

CEA Pharmacology Remediation Module

1. Patients with non-valvular AFib should aim for a goal INR for warfarin therapy of which of the following?
 - a. INR of 20.
2. A unique benefit of Xa inhibitors is which of the following?
 - a. Dietary intake of leafy greens is not contraindicated
3. The one main reason of direct oral anticoagulants can NOT be used include which of the following?
 - a. A patient with active mitral valve disease
4. Which of the following oral antibiotics would NOT be useful in treating a patient with MRSA?
 - a. Amoxicillin
5. A patient with a CCS showing sensitivity to all agents should be started on which of the following agents?
 - a. ABX with the lowest minimum inhibitory concentration
6. The most common bacteria for women with uncomplicated UTI is which of the following?
 - a. E. Coli
7. Standard therapy for an uncomplicated UTI in a female patient is which of the following?
 - a. Bactrim DS :3 days
8. Which of the following agents exert gram negative coverage?
 - a. Amoxicillin